TARIFF CLASSIFICATION

Why this course?

The Customs Tariff is the basic instrument around which the administration of Customs revolves and it is essential that the classification of goods is made under the correct tariff heading/subheading as this affects many other aspects in the importation of goods such as rate of duty, import permit aspect and payment of additional customs duty. However, before classification of goods in the tariff can commence there are legal principles of interpretation and classification, which must be applied. In this regard it is essential that the Rules for the Interpretation of the Harmonized System be clearly understood before attempting to classify goods in the Tariff.

This course covers inter alia the following topics:

- Layout of the HSEN and Schedule 1 Part I
- Rules for the interpretation of the Tariff
- Use of classification aids
- In depth practical classification

Duration: 1 day, 09h00 to 15h00

Investment: R2 475 (Excl. VAT)
